MINES AND MILLS SCIATIC TORTURE

Experts Explore the Green River

Reach Cataract Canyon in a Boat, and Find Rich Mineral Deposits

En Route.

E. T. Welverton, fermerly manager of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company's manganese property near Little Grand, Utah, believe that he has solved the problem of navigating the lower Green and Grand rivers and the upper Colorado, a problem which for years has buffled experienced river men.

Mr. Welverton has recently returned from a trip which he took in a boat of bis own construction from Green River, Utah, to a point ninety miles down the river and return. He was accompanied by several Denver mining men, and the resion traversed was carefully studied from a prospector's point of view. Mr. Wolverton states that he has nowhere in twenty years experience in the mining camps of the West seen richer and more abundant bodies of ore.

Rich deposits were noted in the vicinity of Cataract carvon, as well as on higher abundant bodies of ore.

Rich deposits were noted in the vicinity of Cataract canyon, as well as on higher elevations. Mr. Wolverton believes that the region must inevitably command attention from the prospector, as soon as the transportation problem is solved.

To make the trip, Mr. Wolverton found it necessary to build a beat on special lines, specially adapted to the pseudiarties of the rivers traversed. The power for the boat was furnished by a gasoline engine and it was built at a point on the Green river about turty-live miles below the station of that name.

Several provious attempts have been made to explore these rivers and their canyons, but all have met with disaster. Mr. Wolverton considers the present feasible limits of navigation on a commercial gcale are defined by the Green river between the station of that name in Utah on the north, the head of Cataract canyon on the south, and Moob. Utah, on the Green river, on the cast.

Only boats of shallow draught, constructed on special lines to insure steadiness and strength, with speed as an incident, can ever be utilized within the limits named, and insure regular and safe transportation on these rivers.

L. E. Porter, general superinten dent of the Bagdad Mining company's dent of the Bagdad Mining company's properties, not far distant from Los Angeles, Cat., is in the city, accompanied by J. J. It is the intention of these sentemen to make their way to Gold-Beld and neighboring diggings by way of the San Pedro route and across lots to that great gold camp.

Of the Bagdad company's properties Superintendent Porter says they are now putting out an average of 150 tons of ore fully, one-third of the metallic centents of which is derived through the leaching tanks. The ores are averaging about 23 gold per ton and occur in large bodies. #### Advance in Copper Stocks.

Special to The Tribune. BOSTON, Mass. Oct. 27.-Notwith standing the fact that the New York market has been quite weak, the local market, especially the copper shares, have held remarkably well and advances are to be seen in many of them. Calumet is up twenty points to 599, while some of the others show good gains. The tone is decidedly firm, based on the condition of the metal merket, 14 cents is predicted for copper in a very short time and a sooming market is looked for. ## Vanadium Ore for Export Trade

A Utah Company to Furnish Supply for Krupps of Germany-Superior to Tunbsten.

The Weish-Lofftus Rare Meisls com any, with mines in the Basin section of the La Sai mining district have made arrangements to dispose of their vanadium product to the Krupps of Germany. The vanadium is to be used instead of tunbsten in the manufacture of gun metal and armor plate. Vanadium has been found to be superior to tubsten in the manufactures mentioned, and as a result the price has been increased considerably.
The Weish-Lofftus company have just received returns from a shipment made days ago to their works at Ningara, N.
Y. The shipment consisted of a carload of the rarer metals, consisting of yadium, vanadium, uranium and barium, with some copper and silver. The sale of the uranium and copper-silver ores pair all expenses of transportation and treatment, leaving 250s net profit. The lot of vanadium sold for 500s and the radium for $20s.

Another valuable shipment is below prepared at the two claims of the company.
The demand for vanadium, it is believed, will result in the developing of claims where traces have been found in times past. The veius on the WeishLofftus property are about seven feet wide and the rock has the appearance of
